

This is the new Duchess of Leinster and her son, Gerald, Lord Fitzgerald, who was born in 1914. This is the first photograph of the Duchess, as such, published in America. International.

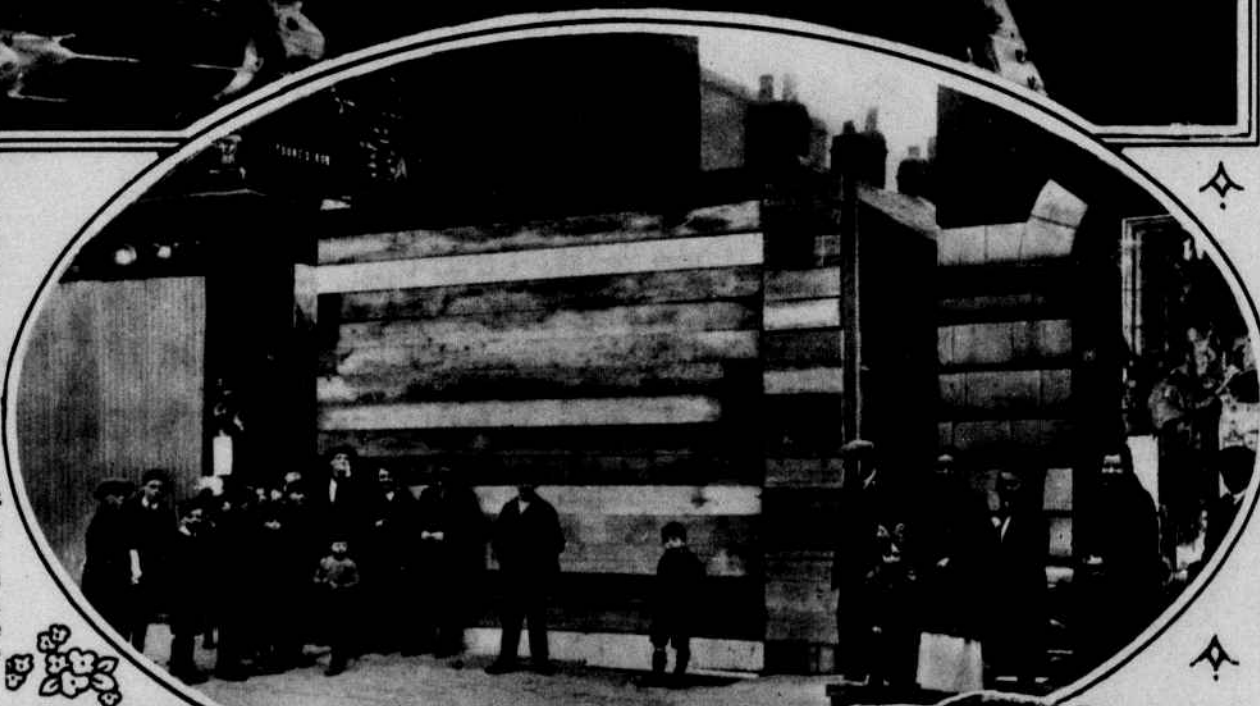

In the far away Antipodes, in the harbor of Sydney, New South Wales, these boats are competing for the championship. In the background, H. M. S. Australian. International.

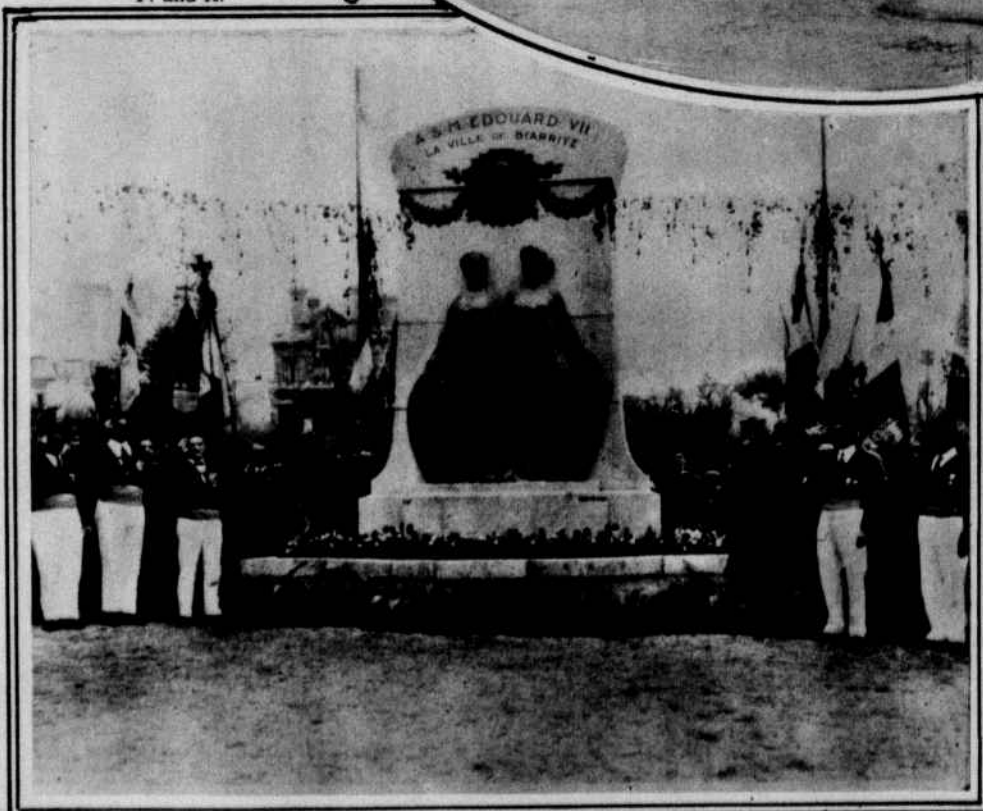

Here are the Governor of the Canal Zone J. J. Morrow, and his brother, Dwight W. Morrow. Between them stands their mother. Wide World.

Barricading Belfast streets to avert riots. By corralling rioters within a limited area the authorities are better able to cope with them. P. and A.

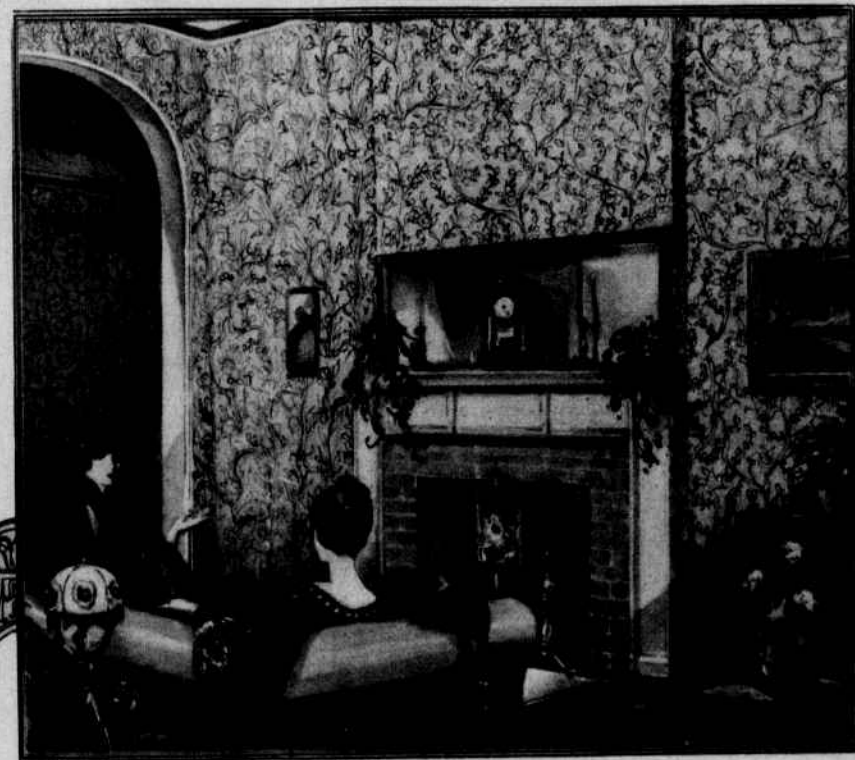

An unusual photograph showing the unveiling of the statue to King Edward VII. of Britain at Biarritz, France. The men in white trousers are Bayonne fishermen, who admired King Edward for his love of the sea.

This is a painting of Ruth Draper by the famous American portrait painter, John S. Sargent. Mr. Sargent has created a remarkable likeness of Miss Draper as she is in a serious moment—caught during one of her famous monologues.
